RE: United States v. Daurell Chavis
20 Cr. 192 (JPO)

Dear Judge Oetken:

I write on behalf of my client, Daurell Chavis, to respectfully request that the Court modify Mr. Chavis's bail conditions to allow him to travel to the University of Albany on May 9, 2022 to help his daughter move home after her first year of college. Pretrial Services and the Government do not object to this request.

On February 11, 2020, Magistrate Judge Robert W. Lehrburger released Mr. Chavis on his own signature and imposed the following bail conditions: a $50,000 personal recognizance bond, cosigned by two financially responsible persons; travel restricted to SDNY/EDNY; surrender of all travel documents and no new applications; pretrial supervision as directed by Pretrial Services; urinalysis; home detention with GPS monitoring; surrender of all weapons and firearms; and no contact with co-defendants unless in the presence of counsel. Mr. Chavis's bail conditions were timely satisfied.

On February 21, 2020 before Magistrate Judge Sarah Cave, the defense requested that Mr. Chavis's bail conditions be modified to remove home detention and electronic monitoring. Magistrate Judge Cave denied this request. On June 2, 2020, with the consent of Pretrial Services and the Government, the defense again requested that Mr. Chavis's bail conditions be modified to remove home detention and electronic monitoring. The following day, the Court granted the bail modification, removing the condition of home detention and replacing it with a curfew as determined by Pretrial Services with GPS location monitoring.

Mr. Chavis has been on pretrial supervision for more than one year. In that time, he has remained compliant with his conditions of release. In August 2021, the Court granted Mr. Chavis permission to travel to Albany to bring his daughter to the University of Albany. He now requests permission to travel to pick her up from Albany after her first year of college. Pretrial Services and the Government do not object to this request.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/
